structive Address.

DIVISION 3 GETS HIGH PRAISE

Last Sunday was indeed a record making day for the Hibernians of Louisville and Kentucky, one that will ever stand out in the history of the Ancient Order. Early in the afternoon and long before the hour arranged for the dedication of the new home of Division 3, located at Eighteenth and Portland avenue, the members, friends, neighbors and well wishers of the grand old order thronged the grounds and handsome building. When the assemblage was called to order at 3:30 o'clock by President John M. Maloney the seating capacity of the pretty meeting hall was taxed to its full capacity and many stood in the ante-rooms throughout the interesting and inspiring exercises that followed.

The meeting was opened with a very appropriate prayer by the County Chaplain, the Very Rev. James P. Cronin, Vicar General of the diocese. After President Maloney had explained the object and purpose of the meeting State President Patrick J. Welsh and County President William J. Connelly were introduced, and in their addresses they congratulated the members and committees who were in charge of the work of establishing a permanent home for the Hibernians of Louisville and Jefferson county. Letters of congratulations and good wishes from Hibernian officials and members throughout the State were then read.

The principal speaker of the occasion was Hon. E. J. O'Brien, one of the leading members of Division 3, who delivered an interesting and instructive address. After first reciting the history of the division from its organization on October 16, 1884, up to the present time, giving the names of the charter members and a long list of Presidents in the years that followed, he commended the spirit that prevailed and produced such gratifying results. Mr. O'Brien dwelt at length upon the progress of home rule for Ireland, stating that it was at last an assured fact, no matter how vigorously or bitterly it might still be opposed by the House of Lords. He enumerated in an entertaining manner the great and lasting benefits that would flow to the people of the Irish race in securing home rule, and declared that the opposition of the Ulsterites was of little or no significance. He closed his address by reading a portion of Robert Emmet's statement from the dock, and said it was now possible and almost timely to write his epitaph according to his last wishes.

Very Rev. Father Cronin blessed the new home and delivered a splendid address to the members illustrating how the Hibernians followed a glowing example of what was possible when there was unity and harmony in their work. He earnestly requested the members to ever thus work together in peace and good will, urging them to be true to the principles of the order, and it would necessarily follow that they would be good members, good citizens and good Catholics.

Father Cronin's instructions will be strictly observed, and it is regretted that his address could not have been heard by every member of the order. Upon motion of Magistrate P. T. Sullivan a rising vote of thanks was tendered the County Chaplain for the great favor he had bestowed upon the division.

Ex-National Director George J. Butler and ex-County President Thomas Quinn, of the home building committee, told how the great work was accomplished and of the present financial status of Division 3. Patrick Holly, the oldest President of Division 3; James P. Barry, of Division 1; and several other members, including Martin Ford, one of the charter members, made short but encouraging talks, following which the meeting was closed with prayers. The remarks of the speakers during the entire afternoon were received with ringing applause, and it was perhaps the most enthusiastic gathering of Hibernians ever held here.

SILVER JUBILEE.

The three days' celebration of Father Joseph A. Thie's silver jubilee as a priest was observed by the citizens of Tell City, Ind., Catholic and non-Catholic alike. The celebration began Sunday and continued until Tuesday, when the line of march was through the principal street to St. Paul's church, where the jubilee mass began at 9:30. Many persons were unable to get inside the doors. The celebrant, the Rev. Joseph A. Thie, was assisted at the mass by the Rev. Basil Hensler, of Jasper, Ind., as assistant priest; the Rev. M. Ahmann, of Covington, as deacon; the Rev. J. J. Scheifers, of Troy, Ind., as sub-deacon; the Rev. Francis Schaub, of Rockport, as master of ceremonies. The Rev. J. J. Hildebrand, of Evansville, preached the jubilee sermon. In all twenty-one priests were present from cities for the jubilee services. In the evening a public reception was held at the Tell City Opera House, where praise was showered upon the Rev. Joseph A. Thie. Factories and stores closed to pay tribute to Father Thie and houses along the route of the parade were decorated. He was presented with a purse of $100 and other valuable tokens.

DEDICATION TOMORROW.

Preparations for the dedication of the beautiful new St. Aloysius church at Pewee Valley, which takes place Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, have been in progress for some time past. The pastor, Rev. Father E. W. Boes, and his parishioners have worked hard and have all in readiness for the great day, one that will mark an epoch in Pewee Valley's history. The inter-urban cars stopping at the church, will leave the station on Jefferson street, between Third and Fourth, every half hour, and returning will leave Pewee every half hour, and in addition a special will leave the Louisville station at 9 o'clock. For the accommodation of those who wish to spend the day there a fine country dinner will be served at the Journey home adjoining the church property. With a fair day there promises to be one of the largest gatherings ever seen in Pewee Valley. There will be no change in the programme from that heretofore published.

PRESENTATION ACADEMY.

Commencement exercises bringing to a close another successful year for Presentation Academy, conducted by the Sisters of Charity, were held in the school hall, at Fourth and Breckinridge streets, Monday morning. The greater part of the programme was musical, and was listened to by a large and appreciative audience, which included Bishop O'Donoghue and several clergymen. Bishop O'Donoghue addressed the students. One of the largest classes ever graduated from this school received diplomas, when three were presented certificates and twelve were crowned. The graduates were Misses Josephine Burkley, Mary Mandelher, Nellie McIlhenny, Virginia Murphy, Mary Mylor, Rose Mylor, Helen Schimpfeler, Adele Schneiderhahn, Marie Shea, Alice Sheehan, Marion Steidle and Lella Traub. Three essays were delivered by the highest scorers, all of which dealt with folk-lore. Miss Mary Michelle Shea and Miss Mary Cecilia Mandelher tied for the highest honor and were both given a place on the programme. Only those receiving the first and second highest average for the term are granted this distinction. Miss Marion Isabelle Steidle was second with an average of 97.7. A certificate for completion of her musical studies was awarded Miss Nellie McIlhenny, while literary honors were bestowed upon Misses Mary C. Gorman, Elizabeth F. Kremer, Christine E. Pfeiffer, Mary C. Pfeiffer, M. Lucille Russell, Alvina C. Seidt and Anna R. Sheehan. Literary certificates were conferred upon Misses Maud O'Brien, May Smith and Lucille Schlemmer.

ORPHANS' FOURTH OF JULY.

Those good people who are interested in the success of the big Fourth of July picnic to be given on the grounds of the orphanage are most urgently urged to be present at the meeting to be held at Bertrand Hall next Monday night. A great deal of work is necessary, committees are to report, duties arranged, etc. In this laudable undertaking there is no place for laggards, and every church worker is confidently expected to come forward and offer his or her services without further solicitation. There's work for all. The picnic will be held on the splendid grounds of the St. Vincent Orphanage, Payne and Cavewood, in Crescent Hill, where there is plenty of room, plenty of shade, and every convenience for such an affair. With united effort this can be made the largest and most successful affair of the kind ever held in this city. But it is going to take hard work and plenty of it, and the volunteers are expected to be on hand. In fact it is the work of volunteers in church enterprises that accounts for very much of the success in the cause of Christianity done under compulsion is very rarely fruitful. So come out to Bertrand Hall Monday night, which will be an indication that you are ready, willing and anxious to have a part in this great picnic for a great cause. The time is none too long for the vast amount of work to be done. Begin right now to arrange with your friends to spend the Fourth of July in a delightfully cool and shady spot with and for the orphans.

BUILDING AT ST. MEINRAD'S.

With the completion of the new library building of St. Meinrad, Ind., only several weeks distant, work on the magnificent new seminary has been begun. Already a large part of the massive stone foundations are laid, and it is expected that the new structure will be ready for occupancy in three years. The new seminary will be 200 feet long, forty feet wide and four stories high, with a large basement. The walls and foundations are being built of sandstone, quarried by the monks on their own grounds. All the floors and the roof will be of reinforced concrete, with red Spanish tile covering for the roof and hollow tile partitions throughout, making the building absolutely fireproof. The halls and basement will be of Venetian mosaic. The new seminary will adjoin the present college building, facing west and extending to the entrance of the church. The new library is four stories high and strictly fireproof. The walls are of stone, with reinforced concrete floors and roof. On the first floor will be an oratory for the lay brothers, and on the second the chapter hall of the abbey. The third and fourth floors are for the library proper, wherein the monastery's thirty thousand volumes, many of them dating far back into the sixteenth century, and some even earlier, will be safely housed.

DELIVERS GREAT ORATION.

Lieut. Gov. McDermott delivered a great oration on "Eternal Public Problems" before the Phi Beta Kappa and the Sigma Chi Iota Societies of the University of Illinois at Urbana on Sunday. A large audience was gathered in the university auditorium to hear the Kentuckian, who traced the analogy of the public problems of today through the political histories of Athens and Rome. Gov. McDermott sounded a warning against a too ready and confident embrace of every cure-all that was proposed for public ills. Many of these devices, heralded today as new political expedients, he said—such as the initiative and referendum and recall—are almost as old as political history itself. Gov. McDermott deplored the disposition to alter materially the Federal constitution and the constitutions of the States.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS.

Interesting and enthusiastic was the monthly meeting of the Central Committee, C. K. of A., on Friday night of last week in St. John's Hall, Clay and Walnut. Owing to business engagements President Ben Kruse was absent, but his place was acceptably filled by Capt. Oscar Maier. Reports from several branches show that there is considerable activity and that a number of applications are awaiting examination before certificates are issued. Communion was administered by the Rev. Father O'Donoghue, who presided. The secretary showing the splendid financial condition of the Catholic Knights of America. The mortuary list showed a number of deaths in Louisville, whose beneficiaries were paid immediately upon the receipt of the death proofs. Short talks were made by M. Reichert on the program being read by the Rev. Father O'Donoghue, who presided. St. Patrick's branch, Charles Hill, Secretary Schulten and Capt. Oscar Maier reported every arrangement perfected for the Tell City excursion, which proved to be a really enjoyable affair. The next one will be given to Jasper, Ind., probably on the Sunday preceding Labor day.

MOTHER LEANDRA.

Mother Leandra Schweri, for fifteen years the beloved and devoted Superior of St. Joseph's Orphanage, died at that institution on Friday of last week, mourned by her little charges and all who ever visited the asylum. Her funeral was held Monday morning at the Ursuline convent, Chestnut and Shelby street. Mother Leandra was seventy-one years old and had been a religious for fifty-three years. She was born at Buffalo, N. Y., and came to Louisville with her parents when eleven years old. She was Superior of St. Joseph's Orphanage for two terms, beginning 1884, and was later Superior of Mt. St. Joseph's Academy in Davis county. Before becoming a Superior she taught at Peru, Ind.; Cumberland, Md.; Mt. Savage, Md.; Newport, Pittsburgh and Covington. At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of St. Joseph's Orphanage memorial resolutions of sympathy for the Ursuline Sisters and the orphans and relatives of Mother Leandra were reported by President Joseph Schilt and Messrs. Nicholas Bosler, Henry Gude and Henry Remmers and unanimously adopted.

STROKE WAS FATAL.

Peter Tully, residing at 1232 Clark street, New Albany, died Saturday night, his being the first fatality from the heat in that city this season. He was prostrated on the Thursday of last week. He was fifty-two years of age and is survived by his wife and two sons, Charles and Joseph Tully. For years he was a member of Holy Trinity church, and also of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Alameda Lorraine Society. His funeral was held Tuesday morning from Holy Trinity church, many mourning friends and acquaintances attending the solemn obsequies.

FROST FOR MILES.

Nelson A. Miles lectured in Milwaukee under the auspices of the Guardians' League, of which distinguished organization he is the National President, and the results were most disappointing. The audience was not large, the Guardians of Bigotry not being able to scare up any American soldier or representative citizen to preside. For this duty the best they could do was to find a foreigner, a Lutheran minister named Dallman. Although Gen. Miles sullies his uniform by permitting himself to be identified with the unsavory bunch, the Milwaukee Citizen says he is unwilling to do the dirty work of the Guardians.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

The closing exercises of St. Leo's school at Highland Park will take place tomorrow night, beginning at 8 o'clock. The Sisters and pupils have arranged a really interesting and excellent programme, one that will include several numbers well worth witnessing. Second street cars stop at the school hall, and Father Fitzgerald and the Sisters invite all their friends to attend.

didates.

O'CONNOR A POPULAR SELECTION

Early in the spring and before it was contained in these columns that there would be a light vote cast in the contest for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, especially in the country districts, principally on account of the primary date, August 1, being a busy time for the farmers and that the bulk of the vote would be cast in the cities, the developments of the last few weeks proving this to be the case. The three candidates, Gov. McCreary, ex-Gov. Beckham and Congressman Stanley, all opening headquarters in Louisville and each making a bid for the vote here. Another point made at the time was that there was little interest in the race by the Louisville Democracy, and the exact words in the opinion of a leading Democrat here in his interest, laying stress on the fact that Edward T. Tierney, Chairman of the Board of Safety, was one of the leaders, this being printed three or four times a week with the hope of awakening interest among city employees and also to convey the impression that the city administration would support the Beckham-Haley cause.

Right here, and without any bias in the matter, it can be stated that Mr. Tierney or no other man can deliver the vote of the Louisville Democracy on a silver platter to the Democrats, and in addition Mr. Tierney's official position should not be used to influence a single voter to support Beckham, for no other reason than to practice what he preached. Post formerly preached that the Louisville Democracy should not be one-sided in State politics. Following out this theory it would be suicidal on the part of the local organization of administration to flock to Beckham and make enemies of the McCreary and Stanley administration. The former advice handed out by the Post being preferred to the present brand. Incidentally it might be remarked that W. W. Davies, who no later than last fall was referring to all Democrats as Beckslaves, is a local Beckham leader, also ex-Chief of Police Haager, who was Beckham's selection for Chief under Bingham, and decapitated Democratic policemen and left the first day of his appointment, without even giving them the formality of a trial. So it can hardly be expected that the present police officials and patrolmen will support Beckham on Haager's account, even aided by the Post's daily statement that their executive head, Mr. Tierney, is in that same camp.

The appointment of James O'Connor as Receiver of the Jefferson Circuit Court by the seven Judges of the Circuit Court this past week was indeed a popular selection and one in which every Democrat feels proud. Courteous, obliging, efficient, are some of the qualities possessed by the appointee, and none are more appreciative of his honor than his wide acquaintance of railroad men, upon whom "Jimmy" has a special hold, his long connection in the employ of the local roads winning him many friends among all, but especially among the boys who toiled in the shops and whom he was ever ready to assist and help in any way.

The following extracts taken from a card in the Rocky Mountain News, of Denver, in regard to the commission form of government now being tried by that city, may be interesting to Col. P. H. Callahan, Henry Johnson, John Chandler and other Progressive leaders who worked unceasingly at Frankfort during the last legislative session in behalf of commission government for Louisville:

I would like to express a few exceptions to our honorable City Commissioners' statements as appearing in the News. They are unanimous in saying that commission rule in Denver is a success, and give as alleged proofs of their economical illusions the elimination of several unnecessary offices and employees; but the refutation preceded their statement in a very forcible manner when, before the end of the year's experience with commission rule in Denver, they established and still maintain unnecessary new departments and sinecure positions with evident result of spending more than their appropriations for whimsical innovations such as public lodging house, to encourage lazy bums coming to Denver (and then blame the police department), appropriations for the planting and cultivation and supervision of vacant lots; "efficiency clerk," "police inspector," $25,000 for a landscape gardener with a national reputation for the civic center and mountain parks ($20,000 for the reputation and $5,000 for his work and expenses), when several competent Denver men would be glad to give us as satisfactory results for one-tenth of that amount. I worked several months and voted for commission form of government and all of its fairly adjuncts in hopes of lessening our taxes and bettering our civic conditions, but our Commissioners have not yet made good; they have yet to show us practical economy in their business management of Denver. While reflecting upon my twenty-two years' residence in this city, during which time our multifarious taxes have been developing into a prospective typhoon of confiscation, I verily believe we reformers have gone beyond the limit and we find that every succeeding city administration makes the last one look respectable.

COLUMBIA CLUB BANQUET.

Monday night the Columbia Athletic Club scored another success with its reception and banquet for members and visitors, who were present in large numbers. After a short time spent in inspection of the elegant club house and grounds, the first speaker was William M. Higgins, who reviewed the history of the club from the beginning to its present formidable proportions. Organized nine years ago the Columbia Athletic Club has steadily grown and today owns its own home, valued at over $5,000, on which there is an indebtedness of only $1,500, which will be cleared during the coming year. The principal address was delivered by Attorney J. J. Kavanagh, and was frequently interrupted by rounds of applause. He spoke on the present day opportunities for young men in business and politics, and commended the spirit and enterprise of the officers and members of the club. Others called upon were Henry Campion, Bernard Brumleve, Will Fox, Peter Lehman, Emory Slater, Edward Brueggman, Henry Schuler, Urban Campion, Ed Fetter, Bud Robards and Andy Reiss.

RABBI ALFRED MOSES HERE.

Rabbi Alfred G. Moses, a former well known Louisville young man and now pastor of the Temple Shaaray Shomayim, of Mobile, Ala., is here on a visit, and during part of his stay has been the guest of Attorney J. J. Kavanagh. These two having been speakers at the St. Patrick's day banquet given in Mobile under the auspices of the A. O. H., and at which Dr. Moses remarked, after hearing one of the speakers say that the home rule bill would automatically become a law after a three-time message "that he was now a full-blown Irishman, having been present at three straight affairs of that kind of the A. O. H." In a visit to the Kentucky Irish American office Dr. Moses spoke of the splendid feeling existing between the Jews and Catholics everywhere, and referred to the stirring time in 1895 when the A. P. A.'s in Louisville attempted to enlist the services of his father, the late Rabbi Adolph Moses, pastor of the Jewish Synagogue, then at Sixth and Broadway, Rabbi Moses rebuking the imitation patriots who had come to see him by saying: "I have too long been a hare to be bound now." The present Dr. Moses takes quite an active interest in the progress of Mobile's municipal affairs and is prominently identified with many of the local political leaders and statesmen. During his stay he has met many of his former schoolmates who had attended the public schools at Ninth and Magazine and Fifth and Walnut streets, and some of his former instructors, all of whom have followed his career with interest and pride.

FEDERATION.

The largest attendance for some time past greeted President Ganz, Secretary Dolan and the officers of the Catholic Federation at the regular monthly meeting, held in the Catholic Woman's Club building. Announcement was made that at the next meeting copies of the recent address of the Most Rev. John Ireland, Archbishop of St. Paul, would be given all present. The routine business was soon disposed of in order to hear the address of the Rev. Oscar Ackermann, D. C., and there was considerable disappointment when it was learned that imperative calls rendered his presence impossible. President Ganz read a carefully prepared and instructive paper on the "Church and Science," dwelling at considerable length on the terrible results that follow the loss of faith. Dr. Ganz read from the most reliable authorities and proved conclusively that the Catholic church had ever fostered and advanced the arts, music and literature, and especially the science of medicine. Henry A. Vonderheide also delivered a stirring address, in which he expressed gratification at the large attendance. He spoke earnestly for the young man, making a plea for parish, diocesan and State organization. Because of the hot weather there will be no lectures until next September.

MACKIN COUNCIL.

Mackin Council had a well attended meeting Monday night, though only routine business was transacted. The committee arranging for the sunset excursion reported satisfactory progress, and announced that with a fine evening this one would be more successful than any heretofore given. During the evening it developed that Cupid has again entered the ranks of Mackin with an intention to stay for awhile. Last week Edward Dillon deserted the ranks of the bachelors, while this week Fred J. Schuler became a benedict, and rumor has it that George Conder will also take a partner for life in the near future. This leaves Charles Raidy and George Simons still eager and waiting for some girl to suit the matrimonial sea with them, and the list might be added the names of William Link, Frank Lannahan, Robert Osborne, Dick Andriott and Guy Nevlin, who are approaching the fourth degree in the Bachelor's Club.

SACRED HEART ACADEMY.

Commencement exercises at the Sacred Heart Academy, Crescent Hill, were held Wednesday, graced by the presence of Bishop O'Donoghue and many of the clergy. A sacred cantata, "St. Angela Merici," composed by the teaching faculty of the academy, was one of the features of the programme, while "Coriolanus" was read by Miss Clemens. Readings were given by Miss Van Natta, Miss Schilling and Miss Clemens and the valedictorian was Miss Josephine Doerr. The graduates, eleven in number, were Misses Anna J. Doerr, Alice G. Clemens, Ruth H. Schilling, Margaret K. Bosler, Margaret Van Natta, Helen E. Gallagher, Madeline H. Hammond, of the classical course; Lillian M. Zorn, literary course; Anna L. Blaul, Mary T. Blaul, Clara G. O'Connell, commercial academic course. Five States are represented in the graduating class—Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland and Louisiana. The art class was represented by sketches in oil, water colors and crayon drawings. Needlework, for which the Ursuline Sisters are noted, was also on display. Two marble verses, eighteen inches in height and of fine workmanship, were loaned to the academy the day preceding by a friend of the teaching force.

PREPARING FOR DEDICATION.

Rev. Father J. J. Fitzgerald and his congregation are devoting their time to preparations for the dedication of the new St. Leo's church at Highland Park, which will take place with impressive and beautiful ceremony on Sunday morning, July 5. St. Leo's is one of the numerous churches erected in this diocese by Father Fitzgerald, and the fire that almost destroyed the edifice was a severe blow to pastor and people. With the spirit and zeal that has marked their past they are going together, and the result is that they will soon have a larger and handsomer church, one that will compare favorably with those of much larger parishes. Bishop O'Donoghue will conduct the dedicatory ceremony, assisted by many of the clergy of the diocese. Father Fitzgerald has had a hard struggle during the past year, and therefore deserves encouragement and support from all Catholics.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE.

The wedding of Miss Gertrude M. Kohler to George A. Burch was solemnized Friday of last week at St. James church, the Rev. Father Willett officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Mary C. Mulcahy, and Claude McDonald, of Memphis, Tenn., cousin of the groom, acted as best man. The bride wore a gown of white crepe trimmed in real lace. Her tulle veil was caught with tines of the valley, and she carried a flower bouquet of bride roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid's gown was of blue silk crepe, with trimmings of real lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of Mrs. Ward roses. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party had breakfast at the Tyler Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Burch left later in the day on a wedding trip. After July 1 they will be at home at 1257 Bardstown road. The marriage of Miss Mary O'Brien to T. Reed Browne was solemnized Wednesday morning at St. James church. Miss Laura May Browne, the groom's sister, was the maid of honor and James Winstead was best man. The ceremony was followed by a breakfast at the home of the bride on Ballinger avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Browne go to housekeeping on Sixth street.

ADJOURN FOR OUTING.

With all the officers and many members present, President Tarpy presided over the adjournment Tuesday night of Division 1, A. O. H., in order that all might attend the outing at Phoenix Hill of St. Patrick's church, whose pastor, Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., is their County Chaplain. Chairman Thomas Cleary had none to report sick, and quite a nice sum of money was turned over to Treasurer Thomas Keenan. President Tarpy called upon the officers to attend regularly the meetings of the County Board and urged members to work earnestly for the success of the annual reunion and outing next month.

PLUMBERS' BANQUET.

The local Plumbers' Union entertained with a banquet at the Seelbach Wednesday evening in honor of the Louisville representatives of the recent General Assembly, who had been instrumental in the passage of the new plumbing law. Among those who were present and made short addresses were Gov. McCreary, Lieut. Gov. McDermott, Senator Sam Robertson, Representatives George B. Barrett, William A. Perry, William M. Duffy, Mayzick O'Brien and M. J. Duffy. Thomas Keenan presided at the meeting, the being the newly appointed member of the local Plumbing Board, and who gave his opinion on how the new law should be enforced.

NATIONALIST

Volunteer Organization Has Influence Upon the British Public.

Introduces a Momentous Factor
Into the Whole Irish Situation.

Belfast Has Begun to Feel the Severe Pressure of Present
Uncertainty.

FINAL CONDITIONS IMPOSE PEACE

We have had a week of sleepy tranquility in the House of Commons and scarcely a mention, except incidentally, of the Irish question, but the Irish question still haunts everybody's thoughts and every one watches with greatest scrutiny every speech or incident which may seem to forecast the uncertain future, says Hon. T. P. O'Connor in his weekly cablegram. The outstanding factor of the week is Redmond's open approval of the Nationalist volunteer movement. Everybody recognizes that this introduces a momentous new factor into the whole situation. The argument that refusal of home rule involved dangers quite as real to peace in Ireland as that threatened by the Ulster Orangemen now is realized by English opinion, which was rather inclined to accept the view hammered in by the Tories that, because Southern Ireland presented such a contrast in its tranquility to Northern effervescence, home rule had ceased to be as passionately demanded as ever. The National volunteers produced further effect by proving to the Orangemen that they will not, if they begin attacks on Ulster Catholics, have to confront unarmed and unorganized victims, as in the riots of two years ago.

The Tories also are brought face to face with some of the inevitable consequences that follow Carson's appeal to rifles. By curious and expected contradiction the Tories of England already are beginning to demand the suppression of the National volunteers, forgetful of their patronage of the similar movement by the Orange volunteers. A further factor which helps towards a settlement of the Irish question, by producing a reaction against Carsonism, is the continued ferocity of the suffragists, which now presents to the English public the enormous growth in lawlessness which Carsonism involves. A further indication of this disastrous change in the old English attitude of law-abidness was given during the debate on the new insurance act for the unemployed by the open threat of labor leaders that when a slump followed the present gigantic trade boom the workmen without employment and without food would not accept conditions with the same resignation as in the past, and would follow the example of Carson's Orangemen.

Thus though Carson's speeches in Ulster and Bonar Law's last speech in Scotland breathe the same old party fury, and though the die-hards are at present in the ascendancy in their party, shrewd observers persist in believing that the whole struggle will end in some settlement in the absence of firm leadership among the Tories, Bonar Law being much discredited. It is still believed that Carson would welcome a solution, but finds his difficulty in the greater violence of his own followers. There are rumors of dissensions in the Orange forces. Some extremists already are beginning to suspect that Carson may agree to some settlement they detest, but other forces from a different direction make Carson's position more difficult. Business Belfast at last is beginning to feel the severe pressure of this uncertainty, and this is accentuated by the great interruption of business relations with Southern Ireland. It is announced in the London Tory organ that recently five linen merchants of Belfast have failed.

It is difficult to forecast what precise form the settlement finally will take. It may be peace, it may be rupture. On one hand the die-hards may get the House of Lords to reject the amending bill in the hope of provoking a rebellion in Ulster and thereby forcing the Government to an immediate general election, and Tory organizations certainly are preparing for an election in July. I remain convinced that the amending bill will be passed with Carsonite amendments in the House of Lords; that there will be haggling for some weeks and that ultimately the universal feeling in favor of settlement will bring the party leaders into conference, including perhaps Redmond and Carson, and that a scheme will be hammered out which at once will save the face of Ulster and guarantee liberty and unity to Ireland.

But violent speeches and some violent scenes may occur between this moment and the ultimate hour. These things will be exaggerated, but the supreme and final conditions impose final peace.

WHEN, OH! WHEN?

Papers hostile to the Catholic church have quoted approvingly the foolish allegations of the Rev. J. S. Lyons, of this city, and the statement made by Rev. J. Addison Smith, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., who declared in the convention of the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly, in session at Kansas City, that: "It is known that an edict from the Pope of Rome was found on the body of Major Butt, who died on the Titanic, commanding all Catholics to vote for a candidate other than Woodrow Wilson in the Presidential election. Even the Associated Press is controlled by the fine hand of the man on the Tiber. The facts are absolutely appalling."

Now this Smith happens to be a Tennessee Democrat, of a somewhat partisan type, and he is a dreamer of strange dreams; for as a matter of fact no such document was found on the person of Major Butt. But the point about all this is the fact that the A. P. A. press has been denouncing President Wilson as a "tool of the Pope's," and now it is claimed that the Pope "commanded" Wilson's defeat in the last election.

The absurdity of the Tennessee's ugly charges is fully proven by the record, which shows that on April 14, 1912, the steamship Titanic collided with an iceberg and sank four hours later. One thousand, five hundred and three lives were lost, Major Archibald W. Butt being among them. On July 2, 1912, seventy-nine days later, Woodrow Wilson was nominated as the Democratic candidate for the President of the United States by the national convention held at Baltimore, on the forty-sixth ballot. On the first ballot Champ Clark received 440 1/2 votes and Wilson 324. On the twenty-fifth ballot Clark 469, Wilson 405. The above figures are given to show that there was no certainty of Wilson being a candidate for the Presidency of the United States previous to July 2, 1912.

Not until May, 1914, did Lyons and Smith bring their diabolical thoughts before the public, knowing well the dead are silent, that they can not defend themselves against falsehood and vilification.

When, oh! when will enlightened people cease swallowing everything thrown at them by preachers of flexible conscience?

SUFFRAGE VS. RELIGION.

At last the militant suffragette has joined hands with the atheist anarchist and proves, if further proof be necessary, that she is thoroughly unfit to govern. This is the view taken by the Boston Hibernian. That the sacred precinct of the church would not be immune from her desecrating hands if she were entrusted with political power can not be denied in view of the outrageous scenes and sacrilegious conduct of the suffragettes who on Sunday invaded the Catholic churches in England. Such disregard of the sanctity of the place and day might be expected from a band of Mexican guerrillas or warring Amazons, but not from an army of civilized and self-respecting women, such as the suffragettes claim to be. A movement which seeks to secure for its advocates a vested political power regardless of authority or the sacred rights of others can never be established except in times of great moral depravity and national degradation when the hideous form of Tyranny rises up and temporarily seizes the scepter of power. No government that has been erected upon the buried rights of another has ever endured, as no monument built on the ruined fame of another has ever reflected glory. The times are not so depraved in England nor the national conscience so perverted as to welcome with triumphant processions the incendiary, sacrilegious and tyrannical militant suffragettes. If suffrage is ever to triumph it will not be by art-destroying, irreligious and anarchistic methods. You may with impunity trample upon or ignore certain inalienable rights of the individual and escape punishment, but there is one right that you may not interfere with and hope to avoid the consequence of his just wrath and indignation. That is his right to the free and uninterrupted exercise of his religious freedom. A few more such demonstrations on the part of the suffragettes as that of Sunday and we can see the end of the movement. All just and fair minded persons who profess any Christian faith will be shocked to learn that suffrage has capitulated to the ancient despot and betrayer of mankind, atheism.

SCORES E. NATHAN.

The Rev. R. H. Tierney, editor of America, the Catholic review, has issued a statement attacking Ernesto Nathan, Italian Commissioner to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, who as Mayor of Rome repeatedly insulted the Holy Father. Father Tierney stated that race, politics or Masonic affiliation had nothing to do with the matter, that the Catholic church opposed Nathan because "he had reviled the Holy See and the Catholic religion in a most gratuitous and offensive way." Father Tierney quoted from several of Nathan's speeches and declared that Nathan's statement that he was fighting "sham religions which are political organizations" was a direct assault upon the Roman Catholic church and accused it of being a sham and a pretext for politics. "Catholics have reason to protest against him," Father Tierney continued, "because he is a violent man who outrages his feelings with bitter, uncalculated attacks on their religion."

A. P. A. LITERATURE.

Subscribers to the Menace and Peril not receiving their paper or those fond of A. P. A. literature should apply to Conductor Edward Hughes, of the C. and O. railroad between Louisville and Ashland, this gentleman being ever ready to disseminate this class of matter to his passengers—on his employers' time.

The Saengerfest convention that comes next week will bring thousands of visitors to Louisville, and therefore it is incumbent upon our citizens to give them a fitting welcome. For months committees have been busy preparing for a great illumination and display, and all that remains to be done to make it the greatest event that has taken place for years is for every one to exhibit the Kentucky spirit and a pride in Louisville.

There was no ceremony when President Wilson signed the tolls bill. There should not have been.

Which is your choice for the fool killer—the fellow who takes a girl on his motorcycle or the girl?

Ernesto Nathan has received another setback, the voters of Rome turning against him.

Welcome to the Saengerfest.

HOLY ROSARY ACADEMY.

Last Friday evening in Bertrand Hall Holy Rosary Academy, conducted by the Dominican Sisters, held graduating exercises that were an artistic and fitting closing to a very successful school year. The programme was so rendered as to reflect credit on all participants and give further evidence that the Sisters forming the faculty of the academy stand second to none as educators. Rev. E. A. Baxter, O. P., at the conclusion of the exercises, earnestly and eloquently took up the cause of Catholic education and reminded the parents of their duty toward their children in this respect, insisting that the child should be as highly educated as possible and educated in Catholic schools, even though this might mean sacrifice on the part of the parent. This eloquent Dominican spoke briefly also of the privilege accorded those parents who have a son or daughter called to the religious life, and in concluding he exhorted parents to nourish and guard carefully any germ indicative of a divine fruit. Hearty applause was given the numbers rendered by Misses Etta Sullivan, Henrietta Dempf, Angela Huber, Catherine O'Connell, Alma Keane and the academy orchestra.

Secretary—Mrs. A. N. Cunningham, of Louisville.
Assistant Secretary—Miss Louise Glenn, of Louisville.
During the two years of their incumbency the officers are planning the erection of an alumnae hall in connection with the academy building at Loretto.

INDIANA'S CANDIDATE.

Hon. Maurice Donnelly, Past County President of Indianapolis, Ind., is being urged to allow his name to be presented for National President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at the national convention at Norfolk during the week of July 20. His name was "sprung" suddenly for National Vice President at the last convention at Chicago, two years ago, and he got an extraordinary vote, coming very near defeating Joseph McLaughlin, of Philadelphia, the present incumbent, though he was in no sense a candidate. Maurice Donnelly was born in Kerry, Ireland, fifty-three years ago, and was compelled to leave the old country in "hot haste" in the troubled times of 1879, when the Land League agitation was at its height. He is a man of wide influence in his adopted State. He is President of the Northwest Ranching Company, a Director of the Wabash Realty Company and Treasurer of the Denison Hotel Company of Indianapolis. Mr. Donnelly is a man of striking appearance, splendid stature and an eloquent speaker. He was last week elected one of the three Indianapolis delegates to the A. O. H. national convention. In 1908 he was Chairman of the arrangements committee for the great national convention held in Indianapolis, the most successful the Hibernians ever held anywhere.

SUMMER IN DUBLIN.

Mrs. Fred Harig and children, Miss Mary Teresa Harig and Master Antony Harig, will leave June 28 for New York, from where they will sail July 1 to spend the summer with Mrs. Harig's mother, Mrs. Teresa Doyle, in Dublin, Ireland.

GOES TO IRVINGTON.

Jerry J. Driscoll, who has been connected with the freight department of the Henderson route, has just been appointed special agent for that road, with headquarters at Irvington, Ky., succeeding J. M. Taylor, who has been appointed local freight agent in this city. For the present Mr. Driscoll will report to the Louisville office and spend the week-end here, but later on will probably move his family to Irvington.

PLEASED THEIR FRIENDS.

Last Monday and Tuesday evenings the St. William's Dramatic Club presented their third play, "Madame de Charny's Beauty Parlor," at O'Connell Hall, West Oak street. The hall was filled with the many friends of the pastor, Rev. George M. Connor, who has been eagerly watching the development of the histrionic powers of the members of this embryonic club under his masterly supervision. Father Connor is a connoisseur in dramatic art, and he is especially gifted in music and has a natural poetic appreciation for the classics. He is beloved by his congregation, who work in harmony for the benefit of the church. The children of St. William's school presented their part of the entertainment before the play, and their graceful movements in the drill showed careful training by the Sisters who taught them. The big audience was highly pleased with the club's work and desires the performance repeated.

HONORED FOR HEROISM.

Among the names of those recommended by Admiral Fletcher for special individual heroism at Vera Cruz is noticed Hartigan, Fogarty, Reilly, Walsh, Lannon, McDonnell, Cantwell and Grady. If there were any members of the "Guardians of Liberty" or Knights of Luther in the fight at Vera Cruz, the report of the Admiral failed to mention any of them for conspicuous bravery when bravery was needed. It's a safe wager there was not one of them in the zone of danger.

ONE GLORIOUS DAY.
The ninety-second annual commencement of St. Catherine's Academy, near Springfield, took place Tuesday morning in the presence of a large number of persons from Springfield, Louisville, Bardonia, Lebanon and other cities. The day was signalized by a representative meeting of the alumnae in the afternoon, and a banquet spread in their honor by the academy, at which toasts were responded to by prominent women from different sections of the country. Mother Mary Aquin and the Sisters greeted the visitors as they arrived on trains, automobiles and vehicles. The scholastic year just closed has been very successful, more than 100 pupils having been in attendance. There were the usual large number of graduates in the literary and commercial branches. The exercises were of a musical and literary nature, and the large audience showed by frequent applause its appreciation of the efforts of the participants. The scholars came from all parts of the country, including New York, Boston and other large cities. After the exercises the guests were allowed to inspect the needle and art work of the pupils which was on exhibition. St. Catherine's Academy was founded during the episcopacy of Bishop Flaget. At the present time St. Catherine's Academy conducts six academies, and more than a dozen parochial schools, enrolling nearly 6,000 children in the archdioceses of Chicago and Boston and the dioceses of Alton, Louisville, Nashville, Fort Wayne, Lincoln and Omaha.

KNIGHTS OF ST. JOHN.
Elaborate plans have been prepared for the reception of the Knights of St. John of Louisville who will attend the international convention of that great order in Cincinnati next week. The Kentucky First district commanderies and auxiliaries, embracing the Falls Cities, have selected the Louisville & Nashville as the official route, which will run a special train, leaving Union Station, Tenth and Broadway, at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, and they extend a cordial invitation to their friends to accompany them. From the Falls Cities there will be nine uniformed commanderies and two auxiliaries, with Col. P. J. Breen at their head. About 15,000 visitors are expected in Cincinnati from all parts of the United States, Canada, Jamaica and Trinidad. Mayor Spiegel will deliver the address of welcome at the opening session at Music Hall. Four thousand uniformed Knights will take part in the parade Monday night, which will be reviewed from platforms surrounding the Cathedral. The Kentucky Knights will be hosts of the visitors in Covington on Wednesday. Thursday afternoon will be spent at the Zoo and Thursday night there will be a ball and supper at the Alms Hotel. For this occasion a round trip fare of $3.75 has been secured.

TAKE UNEXPECTED TURN.
Some of the Unionists who have been the strongest supporters of the Ulster volunteers, including Andrew Bonar Law, Lord Robert Cecil and Leopold Charles Amery, attacked the Government Tuesday night in the House of Commons for its failure to suppress the Nationalist volunteers. They declared that the Ulster men should have been checked in the beginning. This line of attack elicited laughter from the Liberal side. Augustin Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, said that the Nationalists were increasing by 15,000 weekly, but their purpose was purely defensive. The record of 200 years, he declared, showed the futility of British State prosecutions to suppress public opinion in any quarter of Ireland. There was more regard for law there now than ever before. A motion to censure the Government was lost by a vote of 288 to 223.

HISTORY PRIZES.
During the commencement exercises Tuesday night of Holy Trinity High School, held in Holy Trinity Hall, New Albany, Joseph Bruns, representing New Albany Council, Knights of Columbus, announced that next year the council will award first and second prizes in history to students of St. Mary's and Holy Trinity schools.

PICNIC FOR ST. LEO'S.
One of the real picnics of the summer will be that given for the benefit of St. Leo's church at Highland Park. The people of that congregation will endeavor to make this year's affair surpass all others, and this means a day of rare pleasure and excellent meals for all who attend. Fuller details will be given in a later issue.

AT FRENCH LICK.
Col. James P. Whallen, Col. Frank McGrath, Sheriff Charles Cronan and Michael Brennan left Tuesday for French Lick, where they will recuperate for ten days and also try to set a new bowling record for the alleys of that resort.

CONVALESCENT.
Mrs. Thomas Hannan, who recently underwent a surgical operation at St. Joseph's Infirmary, has been removed to her home, 1320 Bardonia road, and is now progressing toward recovery, to the great relief of her family and friends.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.
A pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. Casper Hill at home in Carrollton, when a large party of friends and neighbors assembled to tender congratulations and celebrate the tenth anniversary of their marriage.

CROSS SAVES MANY.
In New York City alone more than one hundred and fifty electric signs are used by the churches. Perhaps the earliest illuminated church sign was a cross placed over St. Augustine's chapel, in the lower Manhattan, nearly forty years ago. LATEST IN STYLES.
A small sunshade with a long handle is one of the most graceful parlors of the season.
The Roman striped collars and tunics are among the prettiest features of the new clothes.
One of the best tailor made models just now is the tunic skirt, cut with broad box plaits.
The fashionable coats all hang as straight from the shoulders as if they were on a coat hanger.
Green, purple, yellow, dark blue, brown and red are all seen combined with white in the form of checks.
Shoulder shawls are being crocheted of silk and wool to look like scarfs. Tassels finish the ends.
Evening frocks, though they don't look any fuller, really have a great deal more material in their makeup.
A charming girle effect on a hand made batiste dress was given simply by rows of shirring at the waist line.

Nothing is prettier among the children's hats than the little shady affairs tied with ribbons under the chin.
Many materials, all sheer, are used in any one cotton dress. The effect is sometimes good and sometimes bad.
You may spot and speckle the reputation of a good man with slander, but you can't hurt his character with dynamite.

HISTORIC NAZARETH.
Commencement exercises of Nazareth Academy were held Thursday, a special train for the academy in Nelson county leaving Louisville at 7 o'clock and arriving in time for the opening of the programme at 9:30. On Wednesday the alumnae gathered for the annual reunion. Officers were elected and other business transacted in the morning, and the remainder of the day was devoted to social intercourse. A banquet was served at noon and an entertainment given in the evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Following are the graduates: Regular Academic Course—Misses Ruth Bergin, Panama; Eloise Grace Blandford, Lucile Brown, Mary Ellen Campbell, Ruth Hagan, Ethel Lucile Hess, Kentucky; Anna Louise Lutz, Mississippi; Estelle Meagher, Kentucky; Sara Eleanor Montgomery, Oklahoma; Angela Agnes Morancy, Kentucky; Margaret Anne Morrison, Tennessee; Winifred Alice O'Connor, Kentucky; Annie Lavina Putegnat, Texas. Literary Course—Misses Mary Henrietta Doherty, Kentucky; Gertrude McDermott, Mississippi; Elizabeth Arnold Young, Kentucky. Present at the exercises were Bishop O'Donoghue, many clergymen and former pupils from all sections of the country.

ENJOYABLE EXCURSIONS.
The excursion that left Louisville last Sunday morning under the auspices of the Catholic Knights of America for Hawesville, Cannelton and Tell City was one of the most enjoyable ever sent from this city. Despite the threatening weather four well filled coaches made the trip, and so well pleased was everybody that all declared they would go again next year. The Henderson Route furnished high class service, while City Passenger Agent Richard Stites and his assistants and President Ben Kruse, Charles Hill, Secretary Henry Schulten, Gen. M. Reichert, Capt. Oscar Maier, John Schickel and others of the Central Committee left no stone unturned that would add pleasure to the trip. From Hawesville there was a nice river ride to Tell City, where the excursionists were met by Capt. Cassidy and his uniformed company and escorted to the park, where a band of music greeted the visitors. After dinner hundreds of the spectators, while the church and also attended the opening exercises of his jubilee in the Opera House. Later in the evening there was an exhibition drill by the Uniform Rank of Louisville under Capt. Maier and the newly formed Tell City company commanded by Capt. Lawrence Cassidy, which elicited rounds of applause from the spectators. After another boat ride the cars were again boarded and all arrived home safe and early, pleased and anxious for another like day.

WILL MAKE MERRY.
The members of the Columbia Athletic Club and their friends will have a merry time Monday night at the club house. Committees have been doing earnest work for several weeks, and the programme will include a big cabaret performance by the best known artists in the city. Together with a bratwurst fest and dancing in the open air pavilion, for which there will be no charge. This popular club has many live wires in its membership, who know how and do entertain in the real Kentucky style. Should there be rain the affair will be postponed till the following Thursday night. Ten cents will be charged for admission.

ARCHBISHOP'S ANNIVERSARY.
Last Sunday was the fifty-second birthday anniversary of the Most Rev. John J. Glennon, the distinguished Archbishop of St. Louis, who sails this week for his visit to the Holy Father in Rome. Archbishop Glennon will first visit Ireland, where he will preach the dedicatory sermon when Cardinal Logue will bless a grand new church. Ordained in 1884, he was appointed Coadjutor to the Bishop of Kansas City in 1896, he was transferred to St. Louis in 1906, and became Archbishop on October 13 of that year.

GERMAN CATHOLIC CONGRESS.
The General Congress of Catholics of Germany will take place in Muenster, Westphalia, August 9-13, and the fourteen committees that have the preliminary work in hand are leaving no stone unturned so as to keep up the standard of past congresses. One of the features of the annual congresses is the fact that an auditorium is usually specially constructed for the occasion. In Muenster they are erecting an auditorium with a seating capacity of more than 8,000. The Catholic congresses in Germany have been an incentive to Catholics in other countries to hold similar national conventions. Since the days of the "Kulturkampf" the Catholics of Germany have become potent factors in public life because of their special faculty for organizing.

FEATURES OF JUBILEE.
Features of the golden jubilee celebration of Bishop Burke of Albany, N. Y., will be a monster parade of 25,000 men. It will be held on June 28. A massed band of fifty-four pieces and the Catholic choirs of the diocese will participate in the celebration.

ODDS AGAINST HIM.
The Clerk read the warrant, beginning: "City of Jackson, Tennessee, against Walter McQueen" and so on. The prisoner scratched his head, meantime contemplating the glowering faces of the chief witnesses for the prosecution.
"Please, sah, read dat first part over again to me," he requested.
"City of Jackson, Tennessee, against Walter McQueen," obliged the Clerk.
"Well, Judge," said Walter, "of de whole city of Jackson an' dese

What the Club Plan Is And What It Means to You

The Club Plan is an extended payment plan instituted purely and simply for the convenience of our patrons who wish to buy Household Goods, such as Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, etc.

When you join the Club Plan you are asked to pay 3 per cent of the amount of your purchases for joining; for instance

The membership fee on a $25.00 purchase would be 75c.

The membership fee on a $50.00 purchase would be $1.50.

The membership fee on greater purchases would of course be in proportion.

You are then asked to pay 10 per cent. of your total purchase as the first payment. For instance, on a $25.00 purchase you pay $2.50 down in addition to the membership fee, making a total of $3.25. The goods are then delivered to you and you arrange to pay the balance in small weekly or monthly payments.

When you consider that goods bought on the Club Plan are purchased at our cash prices—whether special or regular—you will more clearly see that our membership fee is nothing in comparison with the additional cost installment houses place on their goods for the privilege of time payments.

FURNITURE, CARPETS, RUGS, HOUSE FURNISHINGS AND OTHER HOUSEHOLD GOODS ARE SOLD ON THE CLUB PLAN.

Any further information regarding the Club Plan will be cheerfully given by our salespeople or at the Credit office on the fifth floor.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Division 3 will soon install shower baths in the new home.

Division 1 added largely to its treasury Monday night.

The national convention will convene at Norfolk, July 21.

Division 4 will meet next Monday evening at Bertrand Hall.

The County Board will meet weekly from now on until the picnic.

Don't forget the date of the County Board picnic—Tuesday, July 21.

Division 3's new home is a source of pride to every member in the city.

Division 3 will meet every Monday night from now on instead of semi-monthly.

The Ladies' Auxiliary had cool weather for their hot initiation Wednesday night.

President Con Ford, of Division 2, says his division has taken on a new lease of life.

St. Patrick's day entertainment at Indianapolis netted the County Board over $700.

Monday night Division 3 received five applications and favorable reports for eight candidates.

There is a demand for tickets for the Hibernian Social Club moonlight excursion on July 14.

Members of Division 1 missed Daniel McCarthy and Councilman Tom Dolan from their meeting.

Every member in the city should pledge himself to sell at least five tickets for the County Board picnic.

The County Board met at Division 3's hall last night and heard reports from the picnic committee.

Since the last meeting Division 3 received $254 in donations for the new home. That is surely going some.

Bishop Burke will be the celebrant of the mass at the formal opening of the New York State convention in Troy.

The Hibernian Social Club is arranging a number of pleasing features for the moonlight excursion to be given July 14.

The A. P. A.'s in Denver charged that the A. O. H. was behind the kidnapping of Spurgeon, their foul-mouthed lecturer.

State President Callan presided at the distribution of 225 awards for work done in Irish history in the Milwaukee parochial schools.

The two $25 Irish history scholarships provided by the Milwaukee Hibernians were awarded to Miss Ellen Conway and Clinton Mistelet.

Rabbi Alfred C. Moses, of Mobile, has offered to address the local Hibernians at some convenient date in the future on Ireland and home rule.

Division 4 meets Monday night at Bertrand Hall, when it is hoped there will be another large attendance.

The proceedings will be full of interest.

Daniel J. McLaughlin, of Portland, was awarded the scholarship offered by the Oregon State Board of the Ladies' Auxiliary, for which there were twenty-four contestants.

The beautiful granite monument erected by the Hibernians to the memory of the late Rev. Bernard A. Brady in St. Joseph's cemetery at Yonkers, N. Y., was dedicated in the presence of hundreds of members of the order and many friends who assembled to pay tribute to him.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Frank Dugan, our genial and efficient City Wharfmaster, was given the surprise of his life last Tuesday.

On that day the Wharfmaster celebrated his forty-sixth birthday, and as an appreciation a number of his friends assembled at his office, and while extending congratulations, James P. Reedy stepped forward and in a short but happy speech presented Mr. Dugan with a handsome and costly gold watch and chain.

Frank was at a loss for words to express his feelings, and it was some time before he recovered from his surprise.

FAVORITES AT RIVERVIEW.

The management of Riverview Park announces that Elsie Tuell Smith, Louisville's favorite singer, will be one of the attractions for next week, beginning with the afternoon performance of the free outdoor musicals.

On the stage, was known as "The Kentucky Girl," and received many flattering press notices from Eastern critics. Besides Elsie Tuell Smith there will be three other song birds on the programme next week.

Miss Madge Francis, the lyric soprano; Sonori, the rag-time singing boy; and Miss Ruth Lester, the Mezzo contralto, have been engaged for another week.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

The pupils of St. Ann's school will hold their closing exercises in the school hall, Seventh and Davies avenue, next Monday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

In addition to a programme of recitations and musical numbers there will be three little plays by the pupils, entitled "Advertising For Help," "Old Glory" and "The Reverse of the Medal." Tickets of admission twenty-five cents.

SOME INITIATION.

Passersby in the neighborhood of Seventh and Oak streets Monday night stopped to rub their eyes and look again before they could believe their sight.

Sitting on the curbstone was a figure dressed in Mardi Gras costume with a short pole and line industriously fishing in a big bucket, utterly oblivious to the gaping crowd around and watching faithfully for a nibble on his line.

After quite a while the fisherman, seemingly satisfied, wended his way in Seventh street, followed by a large crowd, where at the next corner he met another figure in the same outlandish costume, kneeling on the sidewalk laboriously trying to roll a peanut with a toothpick.

Epileptic Fits.
Solconda, Nev., April, 1913.

Since I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic I had no more epileptic fits since the spring of 1911, and in June I began to work again. Before that time every body was afraid to give me work, because I had fits nearly every day in a few years, but now they all want me to work for them because they know me and see how I am now. The Tonic is sure a Godsend for me and therefore cannot praise it enough. Walter Heard.

Wonderful!

Grandview, R. I., Wash., Aug., 1912.

I had epileptic fits every two or three weeks since 1910, of which doctors could not cure me, but since I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic I have not had a fit in two years and feel well so long as I take the Tonic. The effect is wonderful.

After several spectators had suggested having the two arrested on a lunacy charge it developed that they were only complying with part of the initiation of the Young Men's Social Club, and that the fisherman was Andy Westerman, the crack catcher, while the peanut roller was George Gibney, the fleet outfielder, both of the Twin City Baseball League.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

The games in the Catholic Baseball League last Sunday were all of the hair raising order, four contests being won by one score, the Trinity team defeating the K. of C. team by a score of 9 to 8, the Bruins defeating the Shamrocks by 7 to 6, while the Champions won the prettiest contest of the season over the Imperials in a 1 to 0 game.

The slug game of the day was between the Mackin and Olympic teams, the latter winning by a score of 14 to 13, the fielders working overtime chasing long distance swats. The only disagreeable feature of the Sunday contests was the peevish action of the Bruin team's management in refusing to place their regular team in the field as a protest to Umpire Fontana, who had been upheld by President Reichert, and in all likelihood Manager Wagner, of the Bruins, will resign and the management be given to Jack Sheehan, who borrowed five players from the other teams in order not to disrupt the regular schedule. There can and should be no defense of Wagner's action, he not seeming to realize that the first principle of good baseball and clean sportmanship is discipline and support of the officials in all of their actions. The schedule for tomorrow is as follows: Trinity vs. Bruins, Olympics vs. Shamrocks, K. of C. vs. Imperials and Champions vs. Mackin. The standing to date:

GOOD FERRY BILL.

Heading next week's programme at Fontaine Ferry is Fred J. Ardath and Company, presenting "Hiram," a rural comedy. "Hiram" has to do with the presence of a "show troupe" at the village near the farm of Uncle Josh. The Russian pianist, Eugene Bernstein, will be heard in a miniature musical recital. The musical comedy exponent, Joe Whitehead, offers what he terms "a bunch of squirrel food." Another comedy act is Sam Barton, billed as the King of Bike Comedians. The Two Salsvaggi, whirlwind dancers, complete the bookings.

TACKLE BREWERS.

The Louisville ball club finish their series at Kansas City this afternoon and then jump to Milwaukee for four games, beginning tomorrow, when in all probability a double-header will be played. Milwaukee has been fighting desperately to retain first position, and with Louisville their strongest contender these games are sure to be hotly contested and especially pitchers' battles. Hayden pitting Loudermilk, Toney and Northrop against Hovlik, Dougherty and Slapnicka, which is pretty near an even break from that standpoint, but the Colonels lead them seven points in fielding and nine points in batting, this giving them a slight edge in case of close games. The strike-out record of Loudermilk this year is remarkable, having struck out 115 men in the 116 innings pitched thus far, Walter Johnson, of the Washington team, in the same number of innings only fanning sixty-four men, this being the highest in the American League, while Cheney, the former Louisville twirler, now with Chicago, has a record of sixty-three for 141 innings pitched, being the highest in the National League. Owner Wathen is endeavoring to have the Indianapolis game of next Sunday transferred here, and this would be a good move, as the fans have gotten a little hungry for baseball, especially because of the good road showing.

HUNG JURY.
